Regional Library, Ireland

Our proposals for an International design competition for the Dun Laoghaire-Rathdown Central Library Headquarters and Cultural Centre, seek a poetic harmony between the immediate site context and the greater landscape, reinforcing the distinct character of the area to create a space to inspire and delight in.

Team Summer day out!

Nicolas Tye Architects had a day out in Kings Cross London over the summer! We had lunch out and explored the area surrounding St Pancras Kings Cross station. This included Regent's Canal, Granary Square, The Filling Station and even a little walk to one of our projects! (Look down to the right for more photos from our trip!)

Berkhamstead house, Hertfordshire

Located in an area of good size plots with 250-500m2 housing stock our clients sought not size but quality. In depth briefing analysis and the client clear intent to work together to design a new style of house which would be enjoyable, unique and worthy life time living was central to their requirements.

If you're attending Grand Designs at the NEC this year, make sure to visit our stand B81 and say hello!

Stockgrove farm, buckinghamshire

Nestled close to a wood and glade near the Greensand Ridge within rolling countryside just outside Leighton Buzzard in Bedfordshire and the Stockgrove country estate, sits a site high on the hill with far reaching views which had a rather nondescript red brick bungalow and some small equestrian outbuildings.

One lunchtime we decided to have a picnic in the meadow next to the studio!

Hulcote house, Bedfordshire

Nicolas Tye Architects are responsible for getting planning permission for Hulcote house which is in fact a Paragraph 55 house! It's a self-build project and is approx 1,000m2 in size. Hulcote is currently being built and is due for completion in Spring 2015!
